VTM KITS

(VIRAL TRANSPORT MEDIUM)

Our VTM is an FDA approved collection & transport system suitable for collection, maintenance and long-term freeze storage of clinical specimens containing viruses, including but not limited to COVID-19 & other viral specimens. The transport medium comes in a clear plastic 3ml vial with a screw cap tube which maintains organism viability for up to 48 hours at room or refrigerated temperature. The stored samples can then be used in subsequent clinical experiments such as nucleic acid extraction or purification.

Each lot of viral transport media (VTM) is manufactured under strict guidelines as outlined by the CDC, is sterile, & undergoes quality control before release. A phenol red ph indicator is used to ensure medium integrity at the time of specimen collection.

HOW CAN WE HELP?

TESTIMONIALS

Genesis Laboratory Management LLC is a full-service molecular diagnostic and anatomic pathology laboratory serving physician practices and ambulatory surgery centers in 50 States. Over the last 3 years we have relied heavily on NJF Worldwide LLC for various medical supplies as well as with helping with our customized patient take home kits. NJF Worldwide and their team are very reliable, professional and always willing to go above and beyond to help obtain the supplies you need. As our company continues to grow we look forward to continue working with NJF Worldwide and definitely recommend them to other companies as well.

-Genesis Laboratory Management, LLC

I would absolutely recommend NJF Worldwide to you as a vendor. I am the Mayor of Freehold Borough in New Jersey, everyone at NJF Worldwide was very helpful and knowledgeable throughout the entire COVID-19 crisis. We ordered PPE (masks, gloves, sanitizer, etc.) and received everything as promised and the quality was excellent. I also referred NJF to State legislators, hospitals and business owners who have purchased COVID-19 supplies from them as well.
